Personal Projects

- Personal Website: As an aspiring engineer, having my own personal website was one of my goals. To achieve this, I acquired foundational skills in HTML and CSS, culminating in successful publication of my website at paryal58.github.io.
- AOSP Rom Development: As a resource-conscious student, I learned to make the most of available tools. When my phone began to slow down, I delved into the world of custom ROMs. Using the resources available on Github and Cirrus server, I successfully compiled Android ROMs for both my Redmi Note 5 Pro and Oneplus 8.
